

The logo for FreshClean, featuring the words "FRESH" and "CLEAN" stacked vertically in a white, sans-serif font, set against a blue circular background with a white border.A circular inset image showing a modern, multi-story commercial building with a glass facade under a clear blue sky.

Commercial

"In using FreshClean I have found a product which can be effectively used in a variety of ways to produce excellent results. This product is easy, economical and has a fresh, clean smell – hence the name I would imagine."

The happiness of the staff is of paramount importance to me – if they're happy then I'm happy! They love the smell of this product and the results it achieves, especially on Altro flooring."

Jan Frost, Facilities Manager, Epsom College

A circular inset image showing a long, brightly lit aisle in a retail store, with shelves stocked with various products on both sides.

Retail

"This product, the cheapest, the most environmentally friendly, and user friendly product I have ever come across, in over 15 years, within the industry. It has, and will continue to exceed all of my expectations, in every area that we clean, this product cleans EVERYTHING, not just well, but EXTREMELY WELL. Anyone looking for excellence then you need FreshClean."

*Derek Cogdon, Account Manager,
MITIE Services (Retail) Ltd*

A circular inset image showing the interior of a modern train carriage, with blue walls and overhead lighting.

Transport

"Siemens Transportation Systems have used FreshClean for 18 months and consider this to be the best general purpose detergent on the market. It is a versatile cleaner for varied surfaces at low cost and provided the best results for removing everyday dirt on our trains. The different fragrances available leaves a clean, fresh smell, often commented on by the travelling public."

Mark Pottage, Train Presentation Manager, Siemens Transportation Systems

A circular inset image showing a tall, modern social housing building with a glass and concrete facade.

Social housing

"FreshClean in sachets meets all our Health & Safety criteria, makes life easier for our cleaners and gives us consistent results with improved stock control. Most importantly it is an excellent product that tackles all our cleaning problems with a fragrance that lasts for some considerable time."

*Jorgen Dyer, Head of Estate Services
Swan Housing Association*

It works for these,
why can't it work for you?

Find out more...

Contact us for more information

www.freshclean.biz | info@freshclean.biz | T.01753 655 076 | F.01753 652 983

A decorative graphic of a water splash or bubble cluster in the bottom right corner of the page.